

Anatomy of Cloth-covered Case-bound Books

Cloth Varieties

Woven book cloths are most commonly made from cotton, rayon, or polyester fibers, and may contain coatings or fillers. A wide range of colors, finishes and densities of book cloth are available to suit almost any application.

Foil Stamping/Debossing

Using heat, pressure and adhesive, foil stamping can be applied to cloth covers as text or specialty images. Available in a rainbow of colors, the foil can give a more defined look to the project cover. Blind debossing lends an understated appearance.

Thread Count Counts

Book cloths are available in several quality grades based on thread count. Choose coated clothes for improved wear and moisture resistance, or non-coated clothes for a natural finish.

Pease Bindery works daily with a wide range of book cloths making us an unparalleled planning resource for your case bound book projects. We can help you incorporate other turned-edge materials in addition to book cloth, including printed and laminated paper, leather and more.
